PART IV.

FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1891.

COMMUNICATION.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS.

HARRISBURG, January 15, 1892.

To His Excellency ROBERT E. PATTISON,

Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

SIR: In compliance with the requirements of the constitution, and the acts of the general assembly approved, respectively, April 9, 1870, May 15, 1874, June 4, 1883, and May 13, 1889, I have the honor to present to you herewith, for transmission to the general assembly, a report of this department, Part IV, Railroad, Canal, Navigation, Telegraph, and Telephone Companies, for the year ending June 30, 1891.

I am, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

THOMAS J. STEWART,

Secretary of Internal Affairs.

REPORT.

The duties imposed upon the Secretary of Internal Affairs relative to railroads are found first in article 17 of section 11 of the constitution of 1873, which reads as follows:

Section 11, article 17, Constitution of Pennsylvania:

The existing powers and duties of the Auditor General, in regard to railroads, canals and other transportation companies, except as to their accounts, are hereby transferred to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, who shall have a general supervision over them, subject to such regulations and alterations as shall be provided by law; and, in addition to the annual reports now required to be made, said secretary may require special reports, at any time, upon any subject relating to the business of said companies, from any officer or officers thereof.

The powers of the Auditor General existing prior to the adoption of the constitution, and referred to in the above section, were about the same as those vested in the Secretary of Internal Affairs by the act of May 13, 1889, which act is a re-enactment of the law as it existed prior to the adoption of the new constitution, with a few unimportant changes. The law reads as follows:

SECTION 1. That the Secretary of Internal Affairs be and he is hereby directed to make out, and cause to be printed, a blank form for the annual reports of the several railroad, canal, navigation, telegraph and telephone corporations of this state, referred to in the second section of this act, and the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall forward by mail or otherwise, on or before the first day of May in each year, to each of the said corporations, copies of the said form; and when the same shall have been returned to the said Secretary of Internal Affairs, properly filled out and executed as required by the second section of this act, he shall cause the same to be filed in his office and published in book form, and cause copies of the said report to be transmitted to the Governor and the members of the legislature, on or before the fifteenth day of January in each year as required by law.

SECTION 2. That it is hereby made the duty of each railroad, canal, navigation, telegraph and telephone company, whose works or lines are in whole or in part within the limits of this state, to make out and return to the Secretary of Internal Affairs a complete annual report, according to the form to be prescribed by the said Secretary of Internal Affairs, which, among other things, shall embrace in detail the operations and affairs of the said corporations during the fiscal year, together with such other information as the secretary shall direct. Said report shall be attested by the oath or affirmation of at least two of the following-named officers of the company, president, general manager, superintendent, sequestrator, secretary, treasurer and auditor. That said report shall cover the transactions of each of said corporations for the fiscal year ending on the thirtieth day of June, each year, and shall be filed in the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs not later than the thirty-first day of August, in each year.

SECTION 3. That every such railroad, canal, navigation, telegraph and telephone company, which shall refuse or neglect to make such report as herein provided and at the time specified in the second section of this act, shall be liable to a penalty of five thousand dollars to the use of the commonwealth, for every such refusal or neglect, to be sued for and recovered as debts of like amount are or may be by law recoverable.

Some further duties are imposed upon the secretary under the fourth section of the act of May 11, 1874, which reads:

The Secretary of Internal Affairs shall discharge such duties relating to corporations, to the charitable institutions, the agricultural, manufacturing, mining, mineral, timber and other material or business interests of the state as may be prescribed by law. It shall be his especial duty to exercise a watchful supervision over the railroad, banking, mining, manufacturing and other business corporations of the state, and to see that they confine themselves strictly within their corporate limits; and in case any citizen or citizens shall charge, under oath, any corporation with transcending its corporate functions or infringing upon the rights of individual citizens, said secretary shall carefully investigate such charges, and may require from said corporation a special report, as enjoined in the constitution of the state; and in case he believes the charges are just, and the matter complained of is beyond the ordinary province of individual redress, he shall certify his opinion to the Attorney General of the state, whose duty it shall be, by an appropriate legal remedy, to redress the same by a proceeding in the courts, at the expense of the state.

These provisions of the constitution, and the laws above referred to, embrace, substantially, all the authority given the Secretary of Internal Affairs relative to the control or supervision of the railway corporations of the commonwealth. How far he is authorized to supervise the affairs of the railways by virtue of the clause "it shall be his especial duty to exercise a watchful supervision over the railroads, banking, mining, manufacturing and other business corporations of the state," in the absence of any more explicit legislation, is a problem of considerable uncertainty. In most of the states of the Union railway commissions exist who are clothed with general authority over the supervision of the construction of railroads, their maintenance and operation; or they are given such authority as in the opinion of the respective legislatures the interests of the public seem to demand. In Pennsylvania no effective legislation has been enacted regarding the adoption of safety appliances for the protection of life and limb of passengers or employes, or in the establishing of grade crossings, the kinds of bridges to be used, road ballast, speed of trains, the regulation of rates of freight or passenger traffic, and but little to control the financial affairs of the corporations, or to prevent the discrimination in charges for services rendered the citizens of the commonwealth. So far as the regulation of the affairs of railways in the matter of the adoption of safety appliances, or the maintaining and establishing of other conditions with a view to preventing injuries or destruction of life to passengers or employes is concerned, it may be said that there is no great urgency for action by the legislature, for it is a fact which all must acknowledge, that most of the railway managements in this state have exercised great diligence in in the adoption of the most approved apparatus to insure the safety of passengers and employes. Besides these precautions, it is also true that, with few exceptions, the road-beds are made and kept in a condition approaching the highest degree of perfection, and as a result of these commendable features of railway management in Pennsylvania we may hope for a decrease in the number of accidents to both passengers and employes.

In some states matters of railway management are subject to direction and supervision by boards of railroad commissioners, composed of from three to five members, as the law creating them may provide. Their work is as yet somewhat of an experiment, and the states that have not provided by law for such commissions are watching very closely their operations before taking the step themselves. Congress has, under the Constitution of the United States, entire control over interstate commerce, and, as a large percentage of both passenger and freight traffic of the nation is of this character, the supervision by state boards or commissions does not seem to be necessary: nor is it so urgently demanded as it was a few years ago.

While the great railway problem is not yet solved, it must be admitted that marked advancement has been made in the direction of its solution, and each year brings greater proficiency in management, and also a more thorough knowledge on the part of the people as to the important place occupied by the railway interests in our commercial and industrial development.

COMPLAINTS.

During the year two complaints were filed in the department, under the fourth section of the act of May 11, 1874, by S. S. Porter, of Fayette county, against the Mt. Pleasant and Broad Ford Railroad Company, and the Southwest Railway Company, charging said corporations with having transcended their corporate functions, and asking that an investigation of the matter be made. The department, in pursuance of the duty imposed by the act referred to, proceeded to make an investigation, with a view of ascertaining the cause of complaint, and, if well-founded, to certify the case to the Attorney General for his action. The corporations charged with violation of the law were notified of the complaints and requested to make a special report, under the constitutional authority given to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, and to make answer to the complaints charged against them. The correspondence with the complainant and the companies complained of, together with the complaint and the findings in the case, are submitted herewith. The charges having been made and verified by the oath of the complainant, a careful investigation was made by a representative of the department going upon the ground where the trespass was alleged to have been committed, and where the property alleged to have been taken without due process of law and without rendering just compensation therefor, is situated. Upon examining the records of the county of Fayette it was ascertained that some of the matters complained of had already been passed upon by the court of that county, and that an action at law was still pending involving the matters complained of by said S. S. Porter; and, further, that the acts alleged to have been committed by the said railway corporations affecting the rights of the said S. S. Porter were of that nature for which the general assembly had provided adequate remedies by law. Whereupon the following record was made in the case:

THE MT. PLEASANT AND BROAD FORD RAILROAD COMPANY, AND THE SOUTHWEST RAILWAY COMPANY.

This is a complaint filed by S. S. Porter, a citizen of the county of Fayette, against the Mt. Pleasant and Broad Ford Railroad Company, and the Southwest Railway Company, by which said companies are charged with taking land in Upper Tyrone township, Fayette county, without the consent of the owner, and it is alleged that said companies have thereby violated the tenth section of article one, and the eighth section of article sixteen of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

That portion of the tenth section of article one, which it is claimed is violated, reads as follows:

"Nor shall private property be taken or applied to public use without authority of law, and without just compensation being first made or secured."

That portion of the eighth section of article sixteen, which it is claimed is violated, reads as follows:

"Municipal and other corporations and individuals invested with the privilege of taking private property for public use, shall make just compensation for property taken, injured or destroyed by the construction or enlargement of their works, highways or improvements, which compensation shall be paid or secured before such taking, injury or destruction."

The complainant having verified his complaint by oath duly administered under the provisions of the fourth section of the act of 1874, (Pamphlet Laws, page 136), which act seems to have been passed to enforce the provisions of the constitution referred to, an investigation was made of the matters complained of, first, by requiring special reports from the companies charged with violation of the law, and, second, by going upon the premises alleged to have been illegally taken, and, third, by making examination of the records and proceedings had at law relative to the matters in litigation growing out of the relations of the complainant and the two companies referred to. The act of 1874, above mentioned, provides as follows :

“It shall be his (Secretary of Internal Affairs) especial duty to exercise a watchful supervision over the railroad, banking, mining, manufacturing and other business corporations of the state, and to see that they confine themselves strictly within their corporate limits, and in case any citizen or citizens shall charge, under oath, any corporation with transgressing its corporate functions or infringing upon the rights of individual citizens, said secretary shall carefully investigate such charges, and may require from such corporation a special report, as enjoined in the constitution of the state, and in case he believes the charges are just and the matter complained of is beyond the ordinary province of individual redress, he shall certify his opinion to the Attorney General of the State, whose duty it shall be by an appropriate legal remedy to redress the same by proceeding in the courts at the expense of the state.”

It is not maintained that there is no remedy at law, although an injury may have been inflicted as alleged by the complainant. Indeed, it would seem that the provisions made by the legislature to redress such wrongs are ample and complete, and while facts may easily be established to show that a corporation has violated the law, the Secretary of Internal Affairs is not required to certify such cases to the Attorney General for his action, under the Constitution and law, unless it is clearly shown that the case is one “beyond the ordinary province of individual redress.”

From a careful examination of the complaint made by Mr. Porter, and of the records of the court in the county of Fayette, it is our opinion that this case is not one which should be certified to the commonwealth in order that the commonwealth may become a suitor to redress the alleged wrongs inflicted upon the complainant. This conclusion is justified if for no other reason than that at the time the complaint was made there were proceedings at law pending in the courts of Fayette county, and which are not yet determined. The Secretary of Internal Affairs, therefore, declines to certify this case to the Attorney General.

Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs.

DAWSON, FAYETTE COUNTY, PA.,
November 11, 1890.

HON. THOMAS J. STEWART:

DEAR SIR: We respectfully call your attention (and perhaps it is not the first time) to the fact that the Mt. Pleasant and Broad Ford Railroad Company and the Southwest Railway company are using land in Upper Tyrone township without authority of law, being in violation of the tenth section of first article, and eighth section of sixteenth article Constitution of Pennsylvania and acts of assembly, 9th April, 1856, and 29th April 1874. I will also say here that corporations are robbing the people of Fayette county under the protection of their own court. And there seems to be no help for it under this administration. We respectfully request an investigation of this matter. And we will give the facts of the case under oath at any time desired, but we think all that is necessary is a thorough investigation of this case by some competent party.

The unlawful and outrageous proceedings of this court and these railroad corporations I think, have no parallel in the history of the state.

We respectfully submit this matter to your earnest consideration and remain,

Very truly,
SAMUEL S. PORTER.

SAMUEL S. PORTER, Esq., Dawson, Pa.:

DEAR SIR: Your complaint against the railways mentioned in your letter will receive proper attention within the next two or three weeks, as soon as other duties of the department will admit.

Very truly yours,

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS,

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA,

HARRISBURG, PA., November 20, 1890.

SAMUEL S. PORTER, Esq., Dawson, Pa.:

DEAR SIR: Referring to your letter of the 11th instant, in which you call attention "to the fact that the Mount Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company, and the Southwest Railroad Company, are using land in Upper Tyrone township, without authority of law, being in violation of the tenth section of the first article, and eighth section of the sixteenth article of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and the acts of Assembly of Pennsylvania of April 9, 1856, and April 29, 1874," we would say that the duty of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, under the law, is to exercise a watchful supervision over the corporations of the state, to see that they confine themselves strictly within their corporate limits, "and in case any citizen or citizens shall charge, under oath, any corporation with transcending its corporate functions, or infringing upon the rights of individual citizens," he is to carefully investigate the charges.

You will, therefore, please formulate the charges against the companies in question, stating specifically the character of the infringement, making oath to the same, and forward them to this department, upon receipt of which they will receive immediate attention.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS J. STEWART,

Secretary of Internal Affairs.

DAWSON, FAYETTE COUNTY, PA.,

HON. THOMAS J. STEWART, Secretary of Internal Affairs,

DEAR SIR: Yours of November 20th just received and by your request in replying I will say that I charge the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company, and also the Southwest Railway Company, with taking land in Upper Tyrone township, Fayette county, without the consent of the owner, and in violation of the tenth section of first article, and eighth section of sixteenth article, Constitution of Pennsylvania, which require that a just compensation shall be made or secured before the taking of private property for public use, and when it is not paid before the taking, the acts of assembly (9th of April, 1856, and the 29th of April, 1874) require that it shall be secured before the taking by a bond with at least two sufficient sureties, this was never done, neither before nor after the taking, and therefore they have been using this land for years without authority of law.

In the above I have asserted that these two railroad companies have taken this land (four acres and sixty-four perches, or thereabouts) without the consent of the owner and without paying anything for it, and without giving security as required by the aforesaid acts of assembly, and consequently have been using it for years without authority of law.

SAMUEL S. PORTER.

SAMUEL S. PORTER, Esq., Dawson, Pa.:

DEAR SIR: We are in receipt of your letter of the 25th ultimo, referring to the charges made against the Mount Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company, and the Southwest Railway Company. You charge them with "taking land in Upper Tyrone township, Fayette county, without the consent of the owner and in violation of the tenth section of the first article and eighth section of sixteenth article of the Constitution of Pennsylvania."

You state that the companies have taken land to the extent of "four acres and sixty-four perches or thereabouts."

I would respectfully request more specific information as to the land taken, and would ask that you state precisely where it is located and by what properties surrounded.

Upon receipt of the information the necessary steps in the premises will be immediately taken.

Very truly yours,
THOS. J. STEWART,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

DAWSON, FAYETTE COUNTY, PENNA., December 5, 1890.
HON. THOMAS J. STEWART, Secretary of Internal Affairs:

DEAR SIR: Yours of December 3d received. In reply will say that the four acres and sixty-four perches of land referred to in my letter is a part of the Moses Porter farm, in Upper Tyrone township, Fayette county, and is bounded and described as follows: Beginning within three feet of the first telegraph pole north of Tinstman's Station and extending toward Broadford a distance of one hundred and seventy-six rods to a point south of Summit Station. Said strip of land is four rods wide, having the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad track as its center line, and is joined by lands held by the H. C. Frick Coke Company, Sol. Kiester, Emily Porter, Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company, James Woods, I. Cossel, Jack Shallenberger's heirs, E. Heppler, Henry Shallenberger and others.

The Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company obtained possession of this land by a fraudulent bond in 1870, and laid one track on its center line. June 10, 1880, my father (Moses Porter) died and left this land with other adjoining lands to his children. In March, 1882, all his other children, by a written agreement, which I have, conveyed their right, title and interest in said strip of land to me, and in pursuance of said agreement delivered to me my father's deed to said land (at the time of delivery was the deed of his heirs), and also the bond of the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company, which at that time I thought to be a legal instrument, but which I now know to be a forgery, being simply the conditions of a bond, with the bond omitted. After the heirs conveyed to me, the Southwest Railway Company laid several tracks on the land without the consent of the owner and in violation of the law.

Hoping that the above information will enable you to proceed with your investigation, I remain,

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL S. PORTER.

DAWSON, PA., December 30, 1890.

HON. THOMAS J. STEWART :

In your letter of December 3d you requested for more specific information as to the land taken, and the precise location and surroundings of the same, which information I promptly forwarded to you. Please let me know whether you have acted, and if you have, how soon may we know the result of said action.

Very respectfully,

SAMUEL S. PORTER.

DEAR SIR: Acknowledging receipt of your letter of yesterday we would say that the matter to which you refer is now under investigation, and we will report to you in a few days what progress has been made.

In the meantime we understand from your letter of the 5th, inst., that a bond was actually given as security for the damage that might be sustained by reason of the taking of the land, but that it afterwards appeared that the signatures on the bond were forgeries. Are we correct in this understanding ?

J. B. WASHINGTON, Esq., President Mount Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

DEAR SIR: A complaint has been filed against the Mount Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company, verified by the oath of Samuel S. Porter, of Dawson, Pa., who charges your company with having taken land in Upper Tyrone township, Fayette county, without consent of the owner and in violation of the tenth section of the first article and the eighth section of the sixteenth article of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which require that a just compensation shall be made or secured before the taking of private property for public use, and when it is not paid before the taking, the acts of assembly of April 9, 1856, and April 29, 1874, require that security shall be given.

The land described is at Tinstman's Station, extending from the first telegraph pole north of said station towards Broadford, a distance of 176 rods, to a point south of Summit Station, the same being four rods wide.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY,
OFFICE OF THE SECOND VICE PRESIDENT,
Philadelphia, January 2, 1891.

Mr. ISAAC B. BROWN, Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs:

DEAR SIR: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 31st. ult., advising that complaint has been filed against the Southwest Pennsylvania Railway Company, verified by the oath of Samuel S. Porter, of Dawson, Pa., who charges our company with having taken land in Upper Tyrone township, Fayette county, without consent of the owner.

I have examined the map of our right of way in Tyrone township and can only identify one piece of land anything like the dimensions indicated by you, namely, that of John and Elizabeth Sterritt, for which we hold their deed dated February 8, 1882.

The only piece of land on this road, in the name of Porter, is that of the heirs of Moses Porter, which is immediately on the summit and is only about 357 feet long, for which we hold deed of Emily Porter.

Upon an examination of the right of way on the whole length of this Broadford branch, I find that there are no unsettled cases, and that we have title for all of the property occupied by our line of railroad. Your correspondent, Mr. Porter, is evidently in error in reference to this matter.

If I can give you any further information upon the subject that you may desire I will be glad to furnish it.

Yours truly,

DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 31st day of December just received and replying to the same will say that you misunderstand me as to the signatures of the bond being false, the signatures are real, but the bond itself is false, being the conditions of a bond with the bond omitted. "The fraudulent application of a false signature to a true instrument or a real signature to a false one are forgeries." 4 Blk. 247.

MT. PLEASANT AND BROADFORD RAILROAD COMPANY,

PITTSBURGH, January 8, 1891.

To the Honorable Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

DEAR SIR: In reply to your communication of the 31st ultimo we would respectfully submit for your consideration the following statement of facts in reference to the matter referred to:

Moses Porter was seized of a tract of land in Upper Tyrone township, Fayette county, Pennsylvania, containing 106 acres.

In the year of 1870 the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company was constructed over this land, occupying a right of way through the same 60 feet in width and 2,480 feet in length, the strip so taken containing 3.42 acres.

The railroad company, being unable to agree with Moses Porter as to the amount of compensation proper to be made, tendered him its bond, conditioned as required by the statute to secure to him the payment of such compensation as might be assessed in the manner provided by law, or agreed upon by the parties.

This bond was dated August 16, 1870, and upon its presentation to Mr. Moses Porter was accepted by him.

On the 20th day of September, 1886, J. D. Porter, administrator of Moses Porter, deceased, presented his petition to the court of common pleas of Fayette county, setting forth, inter alia, that the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company had, in the lifetime of said Moses Porter, entered upon the land above described and constructed its road thereon, and praying for the appointment of viewers to assess the damages.

Viewers were accordingly appointed.

These viewers, after visiting the land and hearing the testimony, made a report and the same was filed in the common pleas of Fayette county.

The plaintiff appealed from the viewers' award.

On the 1st day of October, 1890, a verdict by agreement was rendered against the railroad company and judgment was entered thereon October 6, 1890, the amount of said verdict being $1,000.00.

This judgment has been paid by the company and the record satisfied.

Samuel S. Porter, who has filed his complaint with the Secretary of Internal Affairs, is a son of the aforesaid Moses Porter, and a brother of J. D. Porter, the administrator.

Samuel has claimed that the damages occasioned by the construction of the railroad through his father's farm had been assigned to him, and upon this theory he began condemnation proceedings to recover the same. In this attempt he was unsuccessful in court.

If he has any right to these damages his remedy, of course, is against the administrator who has collected them. Samuel has brought an action in ejectment for the same strip of land. This action is pending now in the common pleas of Fayette county, and is on the trial list for February term of court.

These facts can all be verified by reference to the court records at Uniontown. We suppose that this statement will be satisfactory. If not, we will be glad to furnish you any additional information which may be required.

Yours respectfully,

J. B. WASHINGTON,
President.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS,
COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA,

SAMUEL S. PORTER, Esq., Dawson, Pa.

DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 7th instant has been received and placed on file with the other papers in the case.

As soon as the facts are fully known you will be advised. The matter is now being investigated.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,

Deputy Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS,
COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA,

February 7, 1891.

SAMUEL S. PORTER, Esq., Dawson, Pa.

DEAR SIR: In regard to the complaint which you have filed against the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railway Company, we have gleaned the following information, partly from the records of Fayette county and partly from statements made by the authorities of the company referred to:

That in 1870 the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railway Company constructed a road over the land of Moses Porter, your father, that the said Moses Porter and the said railway company were unable to agree as to the amount of damage or compensation which should be paid for the land taken, and that on account of said failure to agree, a bond was presented to the court and on petition properly made, viewers were appointed to assess the damage; that the petition was made by J. D. Porter, administrator of Moses Porter, deceased; that the viewers returned a verdict of one thousand dollars for the estate of Moses Porter, and that the amount so returned was paid by the said railway company. After this payment Samnel S. Porter, who, we presume to be yourself, commenced an action against the company, alleging that he had a right to the damages sustained by the taking of the land as aforesaid, and in this action he was defeated; that an action of ejectment has since been commenced and is now pending in the common pleas of Fayette county.

We should like to know from you, over your own signature, whether the above is a true statement of the case.

If there is litigation now pending in the courts of Fayette county over the subject matter of your complaint, it would not be proper for this department to certify the matter to the Attorney General. Indeed no question should be certified to the Attorney General by this department, under the law and constitution to which you refer, as long as the complainant has a remedy at law. The department does not hesitate to take such action as may be warranted by the constitution and law, but it should not place in the hands of the Attorney General a question for his consideration, unless there is a clear violation of law and no adequate remedy at law.

The Pennsylvania Railway Company claim to have acquired a piece of land 357 feet long on the summit, in the township referred to by you, which tract belonged to Moses Porter, and for which they have a deed.

In your reply will you be kind enough to state whether or not such a deed was given? Before we make further investigation of your complaint against the latter company we should like to know from you whether any such deed was ever given by your father or his legal representatives.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Deputy Secretary

DAWSON, FAYETTE COUNTY, PENNA.,
February 19, 1891.

Secretary of Internal Affairs:

DEAR SIR: Your letter of February 7th received; contents noted. You ask whether your statement in reference to the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford railroad case is true. In answer I will say it is not. I placed this case in the hands of Daniel Kaine, attorney-at-law, in 1881, which his letters to me at that time will show. Then I owned one-eighth interest in the strip of land which I described to you in a former letter—my brothers and sisters owning the other seven-eighths.

The 14th day of March, 1882, said brothers and sisters, seven in number, conveyed their right, title and interest in said strip of land to me by a written agreement, which I have, and in pursuance of this agreement, gave me my father's deed, which covers the land and which descended with the land to his heirs, and also in pursuance of this agreement gave me the bond (misnomer) of the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company. These three instruments of writing constitute my title to the land and every interest in it. Said instruments are in my possession.

The aforesaid strip of land was the last property belonging to my father's estate, and it was disposed of by the heirs to me.

All his property, real, personal and mixed being now disposed of, the said estate ceased to exist, being merged in the estates of other parties. Now is there anything to do for a court, administrator, or heirs, in an estate which has passed out of existence? Nothing. Consequently J. D. Porter, administrator, petitioned for his discharge from said administration; June 10, 1882, heard and continued. I petitioned for his discharge September 16, 1882. Rule granted on J. D. Porter to show cause why he should not be discharged; returned last Tuesday of October, 1882. Here it stopped. Cause unknown to me. July 14, 1887, I again petitioned for his discharge without effect. These petitions are all on record.

land taken from a lot of ten (10) acres and one hundred perches, in which my mother has a life estate. Said deed was made by her and the heirs of Moses Porter, myself being one of them. Here follows an extract from said deed. Beginning at a point in the lands of Sol. Kiester and running by said lands south $61^{\circ} 22'$ east, forty-four and eight-tenths (44.8) feet to the center line of the Broadford branch of the Southwest Penna. railway, as located, and still by the same course and land, twenty-four and seven-tenths (24.7) feet to a corner; thence by land held by the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company south 36° , west three hundred and fifty-seven and four-tenths (357.4) feet to a point in the public road leading to Tyrone. The lands held by the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company are the lands we are contending for, which includes four acres and sixty-four perches, and on which the Southwest Penna. Railway Company have constructed three tracks, running side by side to within six (6) feet of the track of the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company, last said track occupying the center of said strip of land which is sixty-six feet wide. You can judge from this whether the Southwest Penna. Company are on our land or not. These three tracks are constructed over the land in such a manner as to occupy nearly two acres of said four acres and sixty-four perches. These tracks were constructed on this land after they had constructed their first track over their deeded land. Said railroad company well know their deeds show it, that they have no right on the land where these three tracks are constructed. Did they pay or did they secure the payment for the damages sustained before taking the land? If they did not, and they know they did not, is this not a clear violation of the law, for which there is no remedy in the court of Fayette county as it is now constituted? My experience of nearly ten (10) years in said court on one of these cases will amply verify.

Please find enclosed a copy of the bond (misuomer) given my father before taking possession of the land and by which they obtained possession of it, said strip of land extending a distance of one hundred and seventy-six rods through his best lands with a cut twenty feet deep and an embankment, the two extending the whole length of the land, and also necessitating the construction of 352 rods of fence; for said land and damages the company have never paid the owner a penny, besides subjecting him to nearly ten years' litigation already.

A copy of the Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad bond:

Know all men by these presents:

That whereas, The Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company are about to enter upon and occupy lands belonging to Moses Porter, for the purpose of their railroad, and whereas the said Moses Porter refuses to permit such entry, and the parties cannot agree on the amount of damages claimed, now then the said The Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company, Martin O. Tinstman and Henry O. Tinstman, do hereby covenant and agree with the said Moses Porter, his executors and administrators, that the said Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company shall and will pay, or cause to be paid, unto the said Moses Porter, his executors or administrators, such amount of damages as the said Moses Porter shall be entitled to receive, after the same shall have been agreed upon by the parties, or assessed agreeably to the provisions of the act of assembly prescribing the mode of ascertaining the same.

In testimony whereof the said The Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company have hereunto, by the hand of their president, affixed their corporate seal, and the said Martin O. Tinstman and Henry O. Tinstman, have hereunto set their hands and seals this 16th day of August, A. D. 1870.

The fraudulent application of a false signature to a true instrument or a real signature to a false one are forgeries. The enclosed is not a true instrument; if that is so then it must be a false one, and consequently a forgery. It might be called the condition of a bond, as defined by statute, with the bond omitted. It has been suggested that it is an agreement to convey an interest in land and that acceptance makes it good. I will say in that case it must be signed by Moses Porter, which it is not, to have any force or bind the parties. So reads the act of the 21st of March, 1772, and also the decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Constitution of Pennsylvania, article 1, section 10, article 16, section 8, says that in taking private property for public use, a just compensation must be paid or secured before the taking. And the act of the 9th of April, 1856, and the 29th of April, 1874, say that in all cases where the parties cannot agree on the amount of damages claimed, the company or corporation shall tender a bond with at least two sufficient sureties to the parties claiming damages. That is the same as to say that private property cannot be taken for public use except by a secured bond. * * * To say the very least of it, this instrument is not a bond, and it leaves the company a trespasser from the day they entered on the land to the present time.

* * * * *

In conclusion we will say that the court of Fayette county have exercised a power over this matter during the past, nearly ten years, in my opinion more deleterious to the interests of society than that of the highwayman, because it embraces other offenses besides that of robbery, one of which is being a direct and flagrant violation of the eleventh section of the first article of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, a part of which section is defined by the act of 24 February, 1806, which act the court of Fayette county is a standing violation. I need not mention the solemn oath under which the judge acts and by which he is bound.

I now respectfully submit the foregoing statement and remarks to your earnest consideration, hoping that it may aid you in your investigation.

I remain very truly,

SAMUEL S. PORTER.

SAMUEL S. PORTER, Esq., Dawson, Pa. :

DEAR SIR : Acknowledging receipt of your letter of the 23 instant, we would say that we have carefully examined your statement and considered it, and will give the case further attention as soon as we can. The legislature is now in session and takes up a great deal of our time, but we expect to visit Fayette county, and when there will determine what action, if any, the department should take.

Very truly yours,

S. S. PORTER, Esq., Dawson, Pa. :

DEAR SIR : If you have an attorney employed in the case wherein you have made complaint against certain railway companies, will you kindly have him draw up a statement showing exactly wherein you have complaint against such railway companies for which there is no redress provided by law through the courts of the commonwealth?

We shall soon be ready to make report in this case and would be glad if you could comply with this request at as early a day as possible.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Deputy Secretary.

DAWSON, PA., June 12, 1891.

Secretary of Internal Affairs :

DEAR SIR: You desire a statement showing exactly wherein I have complaints against these two railway companies for which I have no redress provided by law through the courts of the commonwealth. I have ample redress; had I not, I should have abandoned this matter long ago. The trouble is not in the law, but in the parties who administer the law. Nearly ten years ago I placed this matter in the hands of a sworn officer of the court of Fayette county. When it was in his hands it was in the court, and you know what they did in those ten years, simply nothing that would have any effect in law. The Mt. Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company obtained possession of this strip of land by forging a bond (an infamous crime) and the Southwest Pennsylvania Company by the highest injury that can be done to real property, that is by coming between the ancestor and the heir and keeping the heir out of his possession. So says "Blackstone."

Now these two railroad companies have unlawful possession of this land and are using it contrary to law. What is the remedy? I say injunction, which is the remedy to prevent acts contrary to law.

The supreme court has original jurisdiction in cases of injunction where a corporation is the party defendant (article 5, section 3, Constitution of Pennsylvania), and this is what I hope to obtain through your mediation.

Article 16, section 3, Constitution of Pennsylvania, says that the exercise of the police power of the state shall never be abridged, or so construed as to permit corporations to conduct their business in such a manner as to infringe on the equal rights of individuals or the general well-being of the state.

You will please observe that I have both the legal and equitable title in this strip of land by the will of my father and his deeds for this land, which descended to his heirs with the land being made to him and his heirs forever, and as I am one of his heirs, I have both the legal and the equitable title and the only person who has, as the other heirs conveyed their equitable title to me in a written agreement with me. Said written agreement with the deeds to the land and this forged instrument of the Mount Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company are in my possession, all obtained from the other heirs in 1882. Now it matters not who owns the land. If the railroad companies have no right on it, is it not the business of the state to interfere by way of injunction and stop them from using it until they can do so by authority of law?

Constitution of Pennsylvania, article 1, section 10, says, Nor shall private property be taken or applied to public use, without authority of law, and without just compensation being first made or secured. Are not the judges of the supreme court on oath to support, obey and defend that clause of the constitution as much as any other part of it? There can be but one answer to that question and that must be in the affirmative.

An injunction is the proper remedy in my opinion. If you can obtain the injunction, I furnishing the evidence, if you do not already have it, I will then be in a position to go for the railroad companies.

If desired, I can bring or send my title papers to Harrisburg.

Hoping to hear from you at once, I remain,

Very respectfully,

SAMUEL S. PORTER.

S. S. PORTER, Esq., Dawson, Pa.:

DEAR SIR: Acknowledging receipt of your letter of recent date we enclose herewith a copy of the action of the Secretary of Internal Affairs in regard to the complaints made by you against the Mount Pleasant and Broadford Railroad Company and the Southwest Railway Company.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,

DEDUCTIONS FROM THE RETURNS.

STEAM RAILROADS.

From the returns for the year ending June 30, 1891, some deductions have been made which will no doubt be of value to the public. For more general information on this subject a reference is made to the consolidated tables printed in this report. There are 321 companies making reports; an increase of 38 over the number reporting last year.

MILEAGE.

The total length of roads reported is 11,784.78; an increase of 909.33 since the last report. It must be remembered that these figures cannot be accepted as indicating that there has been nearly one thousand miles of road built during the year, for many of the roads reporting on mileage, as well as on other subjects, include the operations of the lines outside as well as those within the limits of Pennsylvania; and, in some cases, like that of the New York, Lake Erie and Western, the greater portions of their operations are carried on outside of the state. In nearly all the deductions made from these reports this fact should be borne in mind, for it will be observed that the law requiring reports to be made to this department affects all railroads whose lines are in whole or in part in Pennsylvania. The exact increase in mileage in Pennsylvania cannot be given, but from the best information at hand it would appear to be about 600 miles. Pennsylvania has always kept in the advance line of railway development, and is still keeping abreast with the advancement in this wonderful interest, and over all her mountains and through her valleys the great railway interests have pushed their course, opening her lumber and coal lands in every direction to both foreign and domestic markets. Ten years ago there seemed to be a sentiment that railroad development in Pennsylvania had reached its limit, and that further investments and enterprises would be unprofitable. Time has shown the fallacy of this position, and we may expect greater advancement in the next ten years, both in the character of railway transportation and in the construction of roads, and extension of the lines of corporations whose roads are now in operation. The actual combined length of lines in Pennsylvania is not far from 9,000 miles. In these deductions some comparisons may be made with the railway statistics as published by the Interstate Commerce Commission, for the year ending June 30, 1890, which publication is the most recent national statistics compiled under the direction of Professors Adams and Case, statisticians for the Interstate Commerce Commission. From these returns it appears that the combined length of the roads in the United States, on the 30th of June, 1890, was 163,597.05 miles. The State of Illinois has the greatest mileage, to wit, 10,213.97, in which state, in many respects, the railway developments are similar to those in Pennsylvania. In mileage there is but a slight difference, as has been seen. Illinois has 5.43 acres of territory, and Pennsylvania 5.44 to every mile of road. The extension of old lines and the construction of new ones are adding to the mileage of the lines in the United States at the rate of about 5,000 miles per year, involving an annual expenditure of several hundred millions of dollars. As before stated, we find the mileage of the roads reporting to this department to be 11,784.78 miles, which indicates the combined length of roads, independent of a large number of tracks, sidings and switches. If to the total mileage as given we add the second, third and fourth tracks, the switches and sidings, there would be an increase of about twenty-five per cent. to the mileage as above given. In the United States there appears to be a total trackage of about 208,000 miles.

CAPITALIZATION AND INDEBTEDNESS.

In returns for the year ending June 30, 1890, the capital stock paid in was shown to be $799,987,217.65, and for the year just closed $859,535,920.82; an increase of $59,548,703.17. For the previous year the capital stock per mile of road was $73,559. Returns for this year have reduced this amount to $72,936.10 per mile. The funded debt now amounts to $918,771,209.62, or $77,906.25 per mile of road. Last year the funded indebtedness was shown to be $880,589,509.72, or $80,976.31 per mile of road. To ascertain the entire capitalization of the roads we add the funded debt and capital stock together and we have $1,778,307,130.44, or a capitalization of $150,898.71 per mile of road. There is a marked contrast of total capitalization between the returns made to this department and those made to the Interstate Commerce Commission. It appears that the railway interests of the United States, as represented by stock and bonded indebtedness, are about ten billions, or a capitalization of $60,340 per mile of road. We have already seen that the capitalization in Pennsylvania, as indicated by stock paid in and bonded indebtedness, exclusive of the floating debt, is $150,898.71, or a capitalization of $90,558.71 more per mile in Pennsylvania than the average in the United States. Why this great disparity in capitalization? Does the cost of construction in Pennsylvania so far exceed the average cost of construction in the United States? Or is it due to the greater proportion of double, treble and quadruple trackage: the superior and more expensive road-beds, and the completeness and magnificence of the equipment?

In the grouping of territory for the purpose of making comparative statistics, as arranged by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the greater part of Pennsylvania is placed in the second group with the States of New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, in which group the capitalization per mile of road, as above stated, is $117,902, the highest figures given; while in group seven, composed of Montana, Wyoming, Nebraska and parts of Colorado and the two Dakotas, the capitalization is but $50,413 per mile of road. These figures clearly indicate that the railways of Pennsylvania are represented by more stock and bonds per mile than those of any other state. It will also be observed that while the stock of the roads is $859,535,920.82, the bonded indebtedness is $918,771,209.62, or a bonded indebtedness of $59,235,288.80 greater than the stock capitalization.

The financial success of railway management in Pennsylvania is apparent when that interest can float a bonded indebtedness equal to its capital stock, and $60,000,000 of bonds in excess of that amount. Especially is this observation pertinent when it has been the policy of the law to keep the bonded indebtedness of these corporations much below the amount of stock actually paid in.

In the calculations made above no account has been taken of the unfunded debt which amounts to $99,485,833.90, or $8,441.30 per mile of road. Truly many generations, down through the course of time, will pay tribute to this era of railway development in the way of interest on the great debt which the nineteenth century will bequeath as a heritage to the financier and interest payer of the future.

COST OF ROADS AND EQUIPMENT.

The aggregate cost of construction of the roads reporting to this department, together with the expense of equipment, is given at $1,413,852,335.73, or $364,454,794.71 less than the combined amounts of the capital stock and bonded debt, which represent the entire capitalization. Many of the roads are not only paying interest on their funded debt, but are regularly dividing handsome dividends, yet the figures given would on their face seem to indicate that the cost of maintenance, operation, payment of dividends and other expenses are generally so great that the entire income of all railways is not sufficient to meet the contingent and fixed charges; for it will be seen that the present capitalization is over a third of a billion of dollars greater than the entire construction and equipment accounts. Possibly there is a fair percentage of water in the stock. These figures may not represent the facts, but they are truthful deductions from the returns made.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

Some of the managements are devoting much attention and millions of money to the permanent improvement of their lines, in the way of straightening tracks, erection of stone and iron bridges and substantial stations. The Pennsylvania road especially is pushing this work throughout their entire system, but more particularly in the straightening and improvement of their tracks between Lancaster and Philadelphia. So far as the Pennsylvania road is concerned, these improvements are being made by new issues of stock, and without an increase of its funded indebtedness, a policy which, from a financial standpoint, is certainly most highly to be commended, for in times of financial distress it is much easier to make peace with the stockholder than with the bondholder. During the year just closed thirty-one millions of dollars were expended for permanent improvements by the railroads of the state.

LOCOMOTIVES AND CARS.

Three hundred and forty-eight new locomotives have been put into service during the year, making the number now in use 7,016, or 59 per each one hundred miles of road. In the United States the average is but 19 per one hundred miles of road; the entire number being 29,928. To conduct the passenger traffic 5,626 cars are employed by the Pennsylvania roads, or 47 per one hundred miles of road; while in the United States there are in use 26,511, or but 17 per one hundred miles of road. The companies in this state transport their freight in 315,957 cars, an increase of 22,618 during the year; making an average of 2,681 cars per one hundred miles of road, while in the United States there are but 584 cars per one hundred miles of road.

COST OF TRANSPORTATION.

The average cost per ton for transportation seems exceedingly and almost ridiculously low. While there may be many cases of discrimination and probably some cases in which extortionate charges are made for freight transportation it is an undisputable fact that rates in the United States are in general very low. In 1870, the average rate per ton for one mile was about two cents, and it has since fallen to less than one cent per mile. Freight rates in the United States are only about 63 per cent. as high as those in the schedule of rates on the continent of Europe, and only about 50 per cent. as high as those in Great Britain. While this favorable condition to the American shipper exists, the American rates for passenger traffic are also much lower than the European rates. In 1870, the average passenger rate per mile in the United States was a little over three cents, and in 1890, it had fallen to about two and twelve-hundredths of a cent, which is at least 25 per cent. lower than the well-established rates in the European nations. Density of population and centralization of freight traffic are most important factors in estimating the earning possibilities of a railroad. In this respect the great railroads of Europe have vast advantages. The United States, with her combined length of railways, fast approaching to 200,000 miles has only a population of about 65,000,000 from which to derive revenue; while Europe, with only about 135,000 miles of road, has a population five times as large. Wages, iron, fuel and most of the items and materials necessary for the construction, operation and maintenance of a railway are much cheaper in Europe than in America. Notwithstanding these conditions, which, from a comparative standpoint, are all favorable to railway corporations abroad, tonnage and passenger rates in the United States are much lower than in foreign countries; while the facilities for shipping freight and the comforts and conveniences afforded passengers in the United States are unequaled anywhere in the world. As before seen, the average rate per ton per mile in the United States is less than ninety-five one-hundredths of a cent, and the passenger rate is 2.167 of a cent per mile, we have still more favorable conditions in Pennsylvania for both the shipper and the traveler, where the average freight rate per ton per mile is less than three-fourths of one cent, or, to give exact figures, it is seventy-two one-hundredths of one cent, and the passenger rate is two and three one-hundredths of one cent per mile. In both these items there has been a slight reduction during the year. The Pennsylvania system carries its freight for six-fifty-six one-thousandths of a cent per ton per mile.

A close study of these figures will dispel all doubts as to the revolution that has taken place in our commercial conditions during the last fifty years. When a ton of any commodity can be shipped now from Chicago to New York, in less time and for less money, than it could have been transported sixty years ago from Lancaster to Philadelphia, we need not be surprised that the Pennsylvania wheat grower is put in the most direct and active competition with the producer of wheat on the prairies of the west. Some localities, perhaps many, have been seriously affected by this great change, but it must be admitted that the people of the nation generally have profited by it.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC.

During the year returns show that the lines in Pennsylvania carried 138,070,156 passengers; an increase of 12,173,097 over the number reported last year. These figures show an average of passengers carried for each car of 24,541. The passenger revenues amounts to $52,500,897.07, or an average revenue per mile of road of $4,454.00, and an average earning of $9,341.00 for each passenger car in service. The passenger train mileage in Pennsylvania is 56,197,662. In the country at large these items fall somewhat short on a unit basis of our Pennsylvania companies. The number of passengers carried for the year ending June 30, 1890, was 492,430,865, from which revenue was derived amounting to $260,786,453, an average per passenger car of $9,836.00, and per mile of road of $3,148.00. The average number of passengers carried in each car was 18,574. The passenger train mileage in the United States was reported to be 285,575,804.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC.

One hundred and seventy-nine million five hundred and thirty-three thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight dollars and ninety-five cents represents the amount of revenue received by the railroads of Pennsylvania for the transportation of freight, the tonnage being 247,496,622 tons. These figures indicate an earning of $15,234.38 per mile of road, and an average of $568.22 per freight car. The average number of tons for each car in service is 436.99, with a freight train mileage of 103,805,943. In the United States for the year ending June 30, 1890, there were carried 636,541,617 tons of freight, for which a revenue was received of $714,464,277, an average income per mile of road of $4,367.00, and an average earning per car of $782.00; average tonnage per car of 696.75; average freight train mileage of 435,170,812.

EMPLOYES.

In the railway service of Pennsylvania there are employed 187,656 persons, an increase of 10,711 over last year. To this great army of employes there was paid last year $102,915,304.44, an average per capita of $548.69. The number of men per one hundred miles of road was 1,572. In the country at large there are employed 749,301 persons, or 479 per each one hundred miles of road.

INCOME.

The total income of all the railroads in Pennsylvania for the year was $288,952,576.44; an increase of $18,509,693.64 over the previous year.

EXPENSES.

The total expenses for the year were $245,522,426.02; an increase of $9,962,339.83.

ACCIDENTS.

While the number of persons killed and injured on the railways has been increasing for several years, and while, from the best data obtainable from the roads throughout the country, the past year seems to have been a most unfortunate one in this respect, there is nevertheless a satisfaction in recording the fact that the lines reporting to this department show a decided decrease in both the number of persons killed and injured. In 1890 the number of passengers, employes and others reported killed in Pennsylvania was 1,463, and the number injured 7,447. The returns for the year just closed show that 1,372 were killed and 7,260 were injured. In this connection it is proper to state that from the best information to be obtained, a very large number, something over sixty per cent. of the casualties on the roads throughout the country, are the result of carelessness and disobedience of orders on the part of employes. A well prepared article recently published in the Railroad Gazette clearly shows this fact. If this be true of the country at large, a greater percentage of the accidents in this state may be assumed to result from the same causes, for surely the liability to accident is less here, where the condition of the rolling stock is so excellent and the cars are so generally supplied with the most approved safety appliances, to say nothing of the superior road beds. It will, therefore, be conceded that the enforcement of greater discipline among the employes, requiring closer observance of the rules and regulations, and stricter obedience to orders, together with more care in the selection of employes, would further reduce the liability to accidents. In 1885 there were 720 persons killed and 2,193 injured in the operation of railways of the state; in 1886, 863 killed and 2,503 injured; in 1887, 1,091 killed and 4,627 injured; in 1888, 1,245 killed and 4,944 injured; in 1889 and 1890 (six months of each year), 1,463 killed and 7,447 injured. While safety appliances are being adopted as fast as practicable, and more rigid discipline is being enforced yearly, yet the great number of persons killed and injured should impress the officials of the various railway companies with the necessity of continuing to adopt all possible precautions against accident.

The casualties for the year resulted in the killing of 47 passengers, 465 employes and 860 other persons, making a total of 1,372, as before stated. Of the injured 496 were passengers, 5,580 employes and 1,184 other persons. Those designated as "other persons" may be considered chiefly as trespassers on the roads, or, in a number of instances, as persons who have chosen death on the rail as the means of ending their existence.

Of the total number of employes in Pennsylvania about twenty-five one-hundredths of one per cent. were killed, and less than three per cent. injured. In other words, but one employe in 403 was killed, and one in 34 injured. Of the passengers, one in 2,937,662 was killed, and one in 278,367 injured. Although the aggregate of casualties seems large, the liability of passengers to accident is very insignificant, when the vast number carried is taken into consideration. A comparison with the returns made to the Interstate Commerce Commission for the year ending June 30, 1890, will show a state of affairs rather favorable to the Pennsylvania lines. In this state, as above indicated, the percentage was one employe in 403 killed, and one in 34 injured, while in the country at large it was one employe in 306 killed, and one in 33 injured, and among the passengers, one in 1,721,786 killed, and one in 203,064 injured.

STREET RAILWAYS.

For the year 1890 140 street railway companies made report; this year the number has been increased to 207. The stock capitalization of these corporations is reported at $34,622,120.26; an increase of $7,956,541.67 during the year. These companies have a funded and floating debt of $16,699,488.88; a capital of upwards of fifty millions being invested in the street railways of the commonwealth. The returns show that the cost of these roads has been $19,945,127.13. The combined length of the lines is 683.32 miles, an increase during the year of 96.72 miles. The total number of cars is 2,722, 148 having been added during the year. While the electric and cable systems are supplanting the horse cars, there are still 11,666 horses in use; an increase of 954 over the previous year. The number of cars propelled by electricity is 335, while the poor horses are still dragging along 1,050 cars. In 1890 there were carried 219,505,616 passengers. In 1891 the number was increased to 237,781,172. The total receipts for the year were $12,631,433.60; an increase of $1,174,218.10. Of this revenue $7,369,945.42 have been expended in defraying the operating expenses. Twenty-two persons were killed and 121 injured during the year; an increase of two killed and three injured. The value of the real estate owned by the companies reporting is $2,797,702.56.

CANALS.

The nine companies that still make reports to this department show a capital stock paid in of $58,063,058, with a funded and floating indebtedness of $40,480,488.50. The cost of the canals and their fixtures is given at $30,180,622.21. The tonnage in 1890 was 6,502,103 tons, and in 1891, as shown by the reports before us, 2,108,580; a decrease of 4,313,523 tons. While it is a fact that there has been a material decrease in the amount of tonnage of the several companies, the figures above given are misleading, as three of the companies that reported last year on the amount of tonnage, failed to make report this year. The total receipts for the year are given at $2,808,005.81, and the expenses at $611,248.38. It may be assumed in view of the extraordinarily small expenses, as compared with the receipts, that no very great amount of money has been expended on permanent improvements.

TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE COMPANIES.

Of this class of corporations there are twenty-three in the state, three less than reported last year. There is also a decrease in the capitalization of $32,170. The capitalization now reported is $94,556,652.06. This decrease is not due to the fact that there is less capital employed in the telegraph and telephone business, but to the fact that the reports of three of the companies are not sufficiently complete to be published. The funded and floating debt amounts to $16,414,085.92, an increase of $511,661.43 over the amount reported last year. The entire cost of lines and equipment is given at $3,622,271.59. There is an apparent falling off in the figures showing cost of lines, which is due to the fact that six companies which reported on this subject last year did not make any report this year. The length of lines in miles is 190,264.81, an increase of 4,261.52 miles. The length of lines in Pennsylvania is 11,008.98 miles. The receipts are given at $24,277,443.91, an increase of $833,632.52. The expenses are reported at $17,337,011.05.

GENERAL BALANCE SHEET.

Upon the organization of the company its line was duly located by it in October, 1889: it was reorganized by the election of new directors and the transfer of the subscription right to all the stock, except four shares, to the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company. The Belt Company then commenced, and is now carrying on, the completion of the road with money advanced to it by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company as stockholders. The amount so advanced is $4,400, and same has been expended in construction of road. In respect to right of way, none has been secured except by condemnation proceedings and purchase through three properties at cost of $2,600, included in the $4,400. This was advanced by Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company to Belt Company to be repaid in stock to be issued to it.

On the 13th day of March, 1874, this company entered into a contract with Wm. H. Bines, representing the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, to complete the Quarryville section as a railroad of the gauge of four feet eight and a half inches, and on the same day executed a lease of the said Quarryville section to the Reading and Columbia Railroad Company, for a term of nine hundred and ninety-nine years, to take effect from and after the completion of the work of construction under the contract aforesaid. The work of construction was completed under the contract aforesaid on the 12th day of May, 1875, and the lease to the Reading and Columbia Railroad Company went into operation on that date.

The Reading and Columbia Railroad Company pays the interest on the bonds or obligations of the Quarryville section amounting to $350,000, secured by mortgage, and all taxes and assessments in addition to said interest, and is also to make provision for the payment, renewal, or extension of the debts represented by the outstanding obligations.

The Reading and Columbia Railroad Company has entire control of the transportation, operation and maintenance of the leased road, and retains seventy per cent. of the gross receipts accruing from all the trade, travel, mail service, business and commerce of every kind for said purposes. The Reading and Columbia Railroad Company, after paying the interest and taxes on the obligations amounting to $350,000, is to account out of the remaining thirty per cent. of the said gross receipts to the Lancaster and Reading Narrow Gauge Railroad Company for the surplus. Monthly reports of the earnings and expenditures of the road are to be made to the Lancaster and Reading Narrow Gauge Railroad Company, and settlements are to be made every six months. No surplus has been accounted for under the said terms of the said lease.

CONTRACTS, AGREEMENTS, ETC.

Contract with Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railway, dated April 2, 1891, effective January 1, 1891, for a period of ten years, each party to the contract having the privilege of terminating same after five years, by giving two years' notice in writing. Contract covering use of Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh tracks, sidings, etc., from Stanley, Pa., to Falls Creek, for a minimum yearly rental of $3,300.00, payable monthly ($275.00), based on the supposition that the tonnage transported by the Mahoning Valley railroad will be ten per cent. of the entire tonnage transported by both parties over the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh tracks, between the points named, viz: Stanley to Falls Creek. It being agreed by both parties that the sum of $3,300.00 represents the interest on the original cost of construction of the road to be jointly used together with the cost of maintenance of way and conducting transportation operating expenses, and upon this amount of $3,300.00 made up of interest, $13,500.00, maintenance of way expenses $5,000.00, and conducting transportation charges operating joint line at $14,100.00 annually, the charge of trackage is to be based for a single track between Stanley, Pa., and Falls Creek, with use of intermediate sidings as may be necessary for proper handling of traffic as are in existence at date of this contract. But should the traffic necessitate additional facilities, requiring additional capital for construction and expense of maintaining them, the yearly rental is to be increased in the same relative proportion of such increased capital and expenses; but no charges are to be made increasing rental without mutual agreement of both parties. After first year rental to be based on actual tonnage of year preceding, or a certain percentage of the total tonnage transported of the $33,000.00. Both parties being equally responsible for accident, damage, etc., resulting from negligence of officers and employes, or failure of equipment, etc. The Mahoning Valley railroad furnishing its own engine and crew for transporting their tonnage. And it is understood that all freight consigned over the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh shall be forwarded to destination via the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, provided they offer equal facilities and give equal rates to destination as other lines may offer.

IMPORTANT CHANGES DURING THE YEAR.

This road is under process of construction and is little more than half built upon its contemplated route, extending from Newport to New Germantown. The line at date of this report is constructed to Loysville, an intermediate point, about sixteen miles from Newport. The assets for construction consist of $31,365.00 unpaid stock and the balance of authorized bonds as they may from time to time be issued for sale. The current expenses of construction are thus met. The current liabilities for operation are all met and paid out of operating income, and balance over is devoted to construction liabilities.

The road is in process of construction and trains running only some four months. By the next year the road will be completed and the working of the road made regular. We have given as much general information as we can give accurately. Our construction work and operating work is so much commingled that we cannot now give a truthful statement of each. The road has not yet been taken off the contractor's hands, and trains are run to help meet expenses largely and pay earnings after operating expenses to contractor as explained above.

CONTRACTS, AGREEMENTS, ETC.

There is but one contract and that is with Adams Express Company, and by the terms of which this company agrees to carry the express matter of the Adams Express Company for forty per cent. of the gross receipts, the express company paying all expenses of agents, messengers, stationery, etc.

The bonds thus purchased are to be canceled by the trustee and surrendered to this company. Should the trustee be unable, in any year when the earnings are $900,000.00 or more over actual operating expenses, to purchase bonds at or less than the rate named above, for such year the $100,000.00 does not have to be paid.

Total.	$208,476,876 39	490.23	$425,203 40

NOTE.—In any use made of the amount of stock, bonds, etc., per mile of road shown in Statement A, it should be borne in mind that as this company has over one hundred and thirteen millions of dollars invested in the stocks and bonds of other companies, and that the equipment owned by it is used on all its leased and operated lines, no averages obtained by dividing the length of the road owned by this company into its capital stock and funded debt can be of any use in comparison with similar data furnished by another road owning no securities, and only having sufficient equipment for its own lines.

*The amount shown above as loans and bills payable ($11,243,809.98) does not represent money borrowed by the company as indicated by the item, but represents balances due to the various railroads, other corporations, etc., controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which under its method of transacting business are required to be deposited with the treasurer of that company.

†The amount shown as dividends not called for ($3,217,281.25), is unusually large for the reason that the dividend declared in May, 1891, was a scrip dividend convertible into the stock of the company, or payable in cash at any time prior to August 1, 1891, and the large amount outstanding is due to the fact that on June 30, very little of it had been converted or cashed.

NOTE.—While we give the "cost per mile," the figures are of no value, as the cost of considerable in-completed line is included in the total cost, which is divided by the length of completed line to obtain the average.

The "cost of equipment" is the cost of the equipment used on all Pennsylvania railroad lines; dividing it by the length of road owned by the Pennsylvania railroad shows a result that can be of no use; dividing the cost of floating equipment by the length of railroad owned also produces a result that can be of no use.

IMPORTANT CHANGES DURING THE YEAR.

The city of Philadelphia, on December 26, 1890, passed an ordinance authorizing the Philadelphia Belt Line Railroad Company to build its line. This grant was made subject to the stipulation that fifty-one per cent. of all the stock should be transferred, fully paid, to certain commercial bodies to insure a control in the interest of the public, and that all the stock of the company should be placed under the control of a voting trust. The ordinance further required that as fast as the said Philadelphia Belt Line railroad and branches shall be completed, each part thereof, as rapidly as it shall be constructed, shall be open to the use of all railroad companies, which shall execute a satisfactory agreement to comply with all reasonable rules and regulations, which rules and regulations shall apply to all without discrimination.

During the year all the authorized capital stock ($200,000) has been subscribed and paid for in cash—the gift of fifty-one per cent. of all the stock has been made and all the stock transferred to the voting trust.

An agreement has been entered into with Charles S. Campbell for the building of part of the section north of Allegheny avenue, along the Delaware river.

Stock and mortgage bonds of the consolidated company were issued under the agreement of consolidation.

Express companies—The Adams Express Company pays this company forty per cent. of its gross receipts from general traffic and seventy per cent. of its gross receipts from oyster traffic.

Mails—The United States Government pays this company for transportation of mails, a fixed rate per mile of road, decided by the extent of actual service performed, based upon the weight of mail matter carried for thirty consecutive days during each quadriennial period; additional compensation is allowed for special fast service and, also, for postal car service.

It also furnishes the dining cars run between Pittsburgh and Indianapolis, for which this company pays a fixed rental and keeps the cars in repair, the Pullman Company operating them as agent of this company.

Freight or Transportation Companies or Lines—The Star Union Line transacts business at current rates, the expenses of conducting the same being borne by the roads over which it operates in the proportion of the earnings therefrom of each to the whole. IMPORTANT CHANGES DURING THE YEAR.

Of the $10,703.00 of non-convertible scrip reported in 1890 as on hand, and to be issued, there has been issued this year $540.00, which has been charged to cost of road, franchises and property, leaving $10,163.00 of said scrip to be issued.

Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad Company second mortgage bonds, amounting to $9,000.00, have been purchased during the year and canceled.

Six new equipment contracts have been issued during the year for 1,240 gondola and 250 box cars, aggregating with interest on deferred payments $823,494.84, on which payments have been made of $7,416.00, leaving $816,078.84 outstanding.

Principal and deferred interest amounting to $206,368.09, accrued on equipment contracts, issued previous to this year, has been paid, leaving $282,398.61, principal and interest, on such contracts outstanding.

During the past year the net earnings from operations of the road, after deducting payments for additions to the equipment and the property, have not been sufficient to pay the interest on the second mortgage bonds in cash, therefore convertible income scrip, amounting to $933,467.42, has been charged to income account.

These scrip certificates are convertible at the option of the holders into debenture bonds, upon which debenture bonds interest is payable only if earned.

In accordance with the terms of the second mortgage, and at the request of the holders of the income scrip certificates, debenture bonds have been issued for income scrip to the amount of $343,000.00, aggregating with those issued in previous years $1,058,000.00.

The construction of the company's power plant, shops, overhead lines and appliances was proceeded with and so far completed that in the latter part of February, 1891, a considerable part of its overhead lines were erected and its power plant set in operation for the purpose of testing the same.

The main portion of the power house was then destroyed by fire and the electric apparatus and appliances so injured that they were unfit for use.

The reconstruction of the power house was at once proceeded with. The power plant rebuilt, and the company commenced operation on part of its lines on May 21, 1891. Prior to June 30, 1891, the company had not gotten into full operation on any of its lines and was yet engaged in construction.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION AND CONSTRUCTION.

In 1886, July 6, a meeting of citizens holding property on Allison's Hill was held in the house of the Mt. Pleasant Fire Company, for the purpose of talking over the project of building a line of street railway to be operated by horse power to connect the hill with the central portion of the city; an enthusiastic meeting resulted, the stock was subscribed and after electing a president and board of directors a charter was procured, bearing date of July 21, 1886. The Allison Hill line was built and operated by horse power until the 17th of July, 1888. In December, 1887, the Steelton line was completed, and was operated by horse power until July 17, 1888, when both lines were equipped for operating by electricity. Since the time our lines were equipped with electrical appliances we have had the most satisfactory results, and although we were one of the pioneer electric railway companies, and our experience has been an expensive one at the beginning, yet we now feel compensated by the results that have followed. The law of 1886 having been declared unconstitutional, we applied for a new charter under the law of 1889, which was granted to us June 28, 1889.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION AND CONSTRUCTION.

Incorporated by act of assembly of Pennsylvania in 1861. See pamphlet laws (appendix of 1865, pp. 871 and 872), act approved May 1, 1861. Road built in 1865.

By act of assembly approved April 1, 1873, authority was given to sell the road and to make a deed to the purchaser or purchasers thereof, and granting to them, their heirs and assigns, all the privileges, rights and immunities authorized by the original act of incorporation, and said purchasers incorporated under the name of the Harrisburg City Railway Company.

NOTE.—In the act of 1873, as published in the pamphlet laws of that year, the purchasers are said to be styled the "Harrisburg City Passenger Railroad Company," which is a misprint. By reference to the manuscript law in the State Department it will be found that the corporate title is "The Harrisburg City Passenger Railway Company."

After the reorganization of the company the tracks were extended from time to time until they cover the streets and route described.

The cars are run only on secular days, and have never been run on the Lord's day by this company.

For information relating to this report, address J. J. John, secretary.

What kind of power is used for propelling the cars on your road? Electrical power will be used.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION AND CONSTRUCTION.

The Shamokin Street Railway Company was chartered July 24, 1889, for a term of ninety-nine years, with a capital of $12,000.

This capital being found entirely inadequate for an electric road, a stockholders' meeting was held on September 4, 1889, composed of all the stockholders at that time, and a resolution was unanimously passed, increasing the capital to $30,000.

The par value of shares is $50 and the number of shares to be issued is 600.

The right of way over the several streets of the route was secured by a borough ordinance.

On November 28, 1890, a contract was made with the Johnson Company of Johnstown, Pa., for girder rail, special work, etc., for the road.

On February 25, 1891, a contract was made for the steam plant, consisting of one 150 horse-power engine, two 100 horse-power boilers, steam pump, etc.

On March 13, 1891, a contract was awarded the Thomson-Houston Electric Light Company for an 80 horse-power generator and motors, six in number of 15 horse-power each, being two for each car.

Later on a contract was given to the Brill Company to furnish us with three vestibuled cars.

A contract was given to A. C. Robertson & Company to construct the road and build the overhead line, which is about one and a-half miles in length.

Delays in the structure of the road and failure to receive the cars and some of the machinery in proper time, prevented us from opening the road to the public until July 11, 1891. This will account for the imperfectness of this report, but in future we shall be able to furnish satisfactory reports with promptness.

CHARACTERISTICS OF ROAD.

Route of road, streets occupied and connections: Beginning at power house on corner of Pine and Pearl streets; thence west over Pine street to Shamokin street; thence north over Shamokin street to Independence street; thence west over Independence street to Market street; thence south over Market street to Spruce street; thence west over Spruce street to a point near Second street, which is the present terminus.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION AND CONSTRUCTION.

The borough of Sharpsburg council has given the Citizens' line of Pittsburgh the right to occupy Main street, in the borough of Sharpsburg, from Thirteenth street to the eastern limits of the town, which takes one mile of our charter line and cuts us off from another half mile up to Aspinwall until another street is opened up for a short distance. As we were unable to make a satisfactory arrangement with the Sharpsburg council for the occupancy of the streets, although it did pass an ordinance giving us the streets before the Citizens' line, yet the restrictions imposed were greater than we were willing to accept, and we did not begin the construction of our line. Our charter covers about a half mile of streets in the boroughs of Sharpsburg and Etna which are as yet unoccupied, but unless we can extend or arrange with another company it will be of little use to us.

The road was equipped with three cars and put into operation July 1, 1890, since which time it has been operated constantly, sometimes with three cars under fifteen minutes headway, and the balance of the time with two cars under thirty minutes headway, one car being held in reserve.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION AND CONSTRUCTION.

Incorporated June 17, 1889, under charter of that date. President, L. N. Singley; treasurer, George D. Levy; directors, H. W. Williams, Washington, Pa.; J. H. Ellsworth, Washington, Pa.; Wm. A. Stern, Pittsburgh; J. H. Silverman, Pittsburgh. After ineffectual efforts to arrange for a satisfactory franchise with the borough authorities, the originators transferred their interests August 7, 1890, to parties residing in Washington, viz: J. B. Wilson, Wm. L. McCleary, Brit Hart, Samuel B. Ewing and A. M. Brown & Co., representing the Bellevue Land Company. These men immediately organized with J. B. Wilson, president; Brit Hart, Wm. S. McCleary, John Slater and M. C. Treat as directors; Samuel B. Ewing as secretary. A contract for construction of about 15,500 feet of track was let, work commenced early in November. On January 15, 1891, an election was held resulting in the re-election of J. B. Wilson to the presidency, with directors, Brit Hart, John Slater, Wm. L. McCleary and John Vester. The winter season stopped construction, which was, however, resumed in April, and on May 8, 1891, two cars commenced running on one part of the line. The work of constructing the rest of the line was pushed forward from that time to the present; however, the line is still incomplete. The company hopes to complete the western portion at an early date, which will bring nearly 4,000 feet more track into operation. In order to insure the construction of the road in certain localities, the property holders along the route were induced to enter into agreements to pay a certain proportion of sales of real estate along the route to the railway company. These commissions will aggregate eventually not less than $10,000, and increase with the increase in value of property. We have a contract with the Washington Electric Light and Power Company to furnish us power to run our cars.

CHARACTERISTICS OF ROAD.

Route of road, streets occupied and connections: From borough line on East Maiden street to Main street; from this point a branch runs down South Main street to the Baltimore and Ohio and P., C. and St. L. railroad stations to foot of Main street; thence up Main street to Chestnut street; from this point a line runs west along Chestnut street to the station on that street on the P., C. and St. L. railroad, continuing west by way of National turnpike to Bellevue; thence through Bellevue about 2,000 feet on Baltimore and Cumberland avenues; continuing again at corner of Chestnut and Main streets the line runs north on Main street to Walnut; thence on Walnut street, Highland avenue and Pitt street to the borough line; from this point by way of the Pittsburgh and Washington turnpike to Locust Hill addition; thence west 1,500 feet on Wilson avenue. No other roads to connect with. The line of road in Bellevue on Baltimore and Cumberland avenues is laid on avenues not yet legally opened as public streets.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION AND CONSTRUCTION.

The original charter bears date the 4th day of August, 1890, and the letters patent were issued under the provisions of the act of assembly approved the 14th day of May, 1889.

The articles of association provide for constructing a railway on Market street, New street, Ashbridge avenue, High street, and Rosedale avenue, in the borough of West Chester.

By a resolution of the board of directors, passed at a stated meeting held March 31, 1891, it was resolved that the West Chester Street Railway Company deem it necessary for the increase of the business of the road and the accommodations of the travel of the public, that an extension or branch be laid and constructed from the tracks of the company in the borough of West Chester, through and over lands in the said borough and in the townships of East Bradford, Birmingham and Pocopson, by and with the consent of the local authorities, to Lenape station on the Wilmington and Northern railroad.

A copy of the minutes authorizing the extension or branch has been duly recorded and an exemplification of the said record was filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, on or about April 19, 1891.

The original capital stock of the road was $30,000, but afterwards, at a meeting of the stockholders, the capital stock was increased to $60,000.

The road is partially constructed in the borough of West Chester, and surveys have been made of the extension to Lenape and part of the material has been purchased, but no work has been done on the line of said extension. It is expected to begin the work as soon as the surveys can be completed, and the contracts can be let.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION AND CONSTRUCTION.

Company originally incorporated May 27, 1883, and railway constructed. The company became involved in litigation, its railway was not kept in operation. In repaving Penn avenue, the city caused part of its tracks to be torn up. The company surrendered its old charter, and on March 28, 1890, under act of May 14, 1889, the company was granted letters patent, and has proceeded with reconstruction of its railway. Dispute exists with the East End Street Railway Company in relation to right to occupy Penn avenue, and the companies have entered into contract with a view to having trouble amicably settled. The railway when completed will form part of the system operated by the Duquesne Traction Company.

CHARACTERISTICS OF ROAD.

Route of road, streets occupied and connections : Beginning on Penn avenue near end of Ellsworth avenue ; thence by single track along Penn avenue to Point Breeze, and thence by double track along Penn avenue to the city line. Which route is also claimed by the East End Street Railway Company, and the railway was constructed under contract with them. Said railway connects at the intersection of Penn and Fifth avenues with the Wilksburg Street railway.

GENERAL BALANCE SHEET.

Have not prepared a balance sheet, as railway is being reconstructed in part under contract, which contract is only part performed, and because it is yet undetermined what liability, if any, the company will have under its contract for reconstruction of the railway.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION AND CONSTRUCTION.

The Central District and Printing Telegraph Company was originally incorporated in the State of New York on April 14, 1874, under the provisions of an act, entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of telegraph companies," passed April 12, 1848, and the acts additional thereto and amendatory thereof, for the purpose of owning, constructing, using and maintaining a line or lines of electric telegraph, etc. The route of line as defined in its articles of incorporation was as follows, viz: From Jamestown, Chautauqua county, New York, to Mansfield, Ohio; thence to Wheeling, W. Va.; thence to Pittsburgh, Pa. The company was engaged for a time in the business of building electric telegraph lines in the city of Pittsburgh, Pa., and vicinity, and leasing them to private firms and individuals at an annual rental, this company in most cases owning and maintaining the lines and firms or individuals leasing them, and operating them. The Morse Telegraph Instruments on these lines were in a majority of cases superseded by Gray's Automatic Printing Telegraph Instruments and these in turn were superseded by telephones. On August 10, 1881, the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company became a corporation under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, by accepting the provisions of the law enacted on June 9, 1881, authorizing foreign corporations to become corporations in the State of Pennsylvania, and prescribing the method of their doing so, for the purpose of carrying on the business of constructing, owning, leasing and operating telegraph and telephone lines, buying, selling and dealing in electrical apparatus and supplies, etc., with the principal office located in Pittsburgh, Pa. The corporation under the laws of the State of New York, was then dissolved and its charter renounced and annulled. The principal business of the company since its incorporation in the State of Pennsylvania has been, and is at present, that of furnishing telephone service to its subscribers and leasing telephone and telegraph lines to private parties. It is also engaged in the district messenger business in the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION AND CONSTRUCTION.

The organization of the company was effected on the 24th of September, 1880. Telephone lines had been previously established by private parties in Williamsport Phillipsburg, Bellefonte, Altoona, Milton and Shamokin. The chartered limits of the company include the counties of Centre, Clinton, Clearfield, Cameron, Columbia, Blair, Huntingdon, Juniata, Montour, Mifflin, Snyder, Sullivan, Northumberland, Union and Lycoming and such other territory as might be thereafter acquired. In January, 1884, the company acquired the property and rights of the North Pennsylvania Telephone Company, comprising the counties of Luzerne, Lackawanna and Wyoming. In January, 1888, the county of Elk was acquired from the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company of Pittsburgh. The company now has telephone exchanges established and in operation in all the principal cities and towns in the territory covered by its charter, and the district has been fully occupied and ample telephone communication furnished to the public. The entire district, with the exception of Elk county, has its various centers or telephone exchanges connected with each other by wire as well as lines connecting the territory of the Pennsylvania Telephone Company via Mt. Carmel and via Hazleton.

In May, 1890, the company began the erection of long distance metallic circuit lines eastward from Williamsport to connect with the circuits of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at Hazleton, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, with intermediate stations en-route connected, which lines were completed and put in operation August 1, 1890. For the capital stock, general business, receipts and expenditures of the company, reference is made to the other parts of this report.
